As part of our Project Citizen Web site, we occasionally publish pictures of events on our website located at www.projectcitizenvt.org. In addition, we also publish student-authored writing.

To publish individual or team photos and/or written work, we need to have permission from the originating school. A school's permission is based upon its own policies and permission forms. Our assumption is, therefore, that by assigning Project Citizen Vermont permission to publish, the originating school has obtained all required permissions according to its own policies and has those permissions on file.

These guidelines will be followed:

- No individual photos (non group) of your child will be published without additional consent beyond this form.
- No personal information about the students, such as home address or telephone, number will be published.
- Captions of pictures will not give the last name of student(s).
